Offer Description

It is made known that a call for the award of 1 (one) Research Fellowship for PhD students within the scope of the Project entitled: Halt-Ronin: Discovering chronic inflammation biomarkers that define key stages in the Healthy-to-NASH (non-alcoholic steatohepatitis) transition to inform early prevention and treatment strategies (HORIZON-HLTH-2022-STAYHLTH-02), funded by the European Union through the Horizon Europe Programme, under the Grant Agreement no. 101095679, is open under the following conditions:

Scientific Area: Biology

Work Plan:

1. Conduct research related to the progression of liver disease NAFLD-NASH, with the aim of understanding, defining, and quantifying molecular pathways, targets, and relevant biomarkers for the transition from health to disease caused by inflammation in NAFLD-NASH. This will involve independent research work as well as collaboration with other researchers in the Halt-ROININ project;
2. Dissemination of results through annual reports, conferences, and publications;
3. Connection and support for other Halt-ROININ project partners, possibly including national and international travel;
4. Development of personal work plans and contribution to the broader development of the group's strategy, particularly identifying priorities for current and future work; this includes contributing to the preparation of new funding applications;
5. Mentoring students interested in developing their theses in the field of the Halt-ROININ project.

Workplace and Scientific Guidance: The work will be carried out at the Faculty of Pharmacy, University of Lisbon, under the supervision of Dr. Joana Paiva Gomes Miranda, Associate Professor With Habilitation, from the Faculty of Pharmacy of the University of Lisbon.

Formalization of applications: Applications must be sent in non-editable format (PDF), to the email concursos@ff.ulisboa.pt, containing the identification of the above-mentioned notice. Applications in paper format will not be accepted.

Application deadline: The deadline for applications is from 7th to 20th February 2025 (10 working days).
